

Session Cancellation Policy

At the time of booking your session, I ask you to pay the full session fee to confirm your booking. If you need to reschedule or cancel the session after you have paid the following cancellation terms apply:

- Online sessions I need 48 hours notice and I will refund you in full or reschedule your session once.

By paying the fee for the session you indicate your agreement to these cancellation terms. If you have any questions about the policy please discuss them with me before paying for your session.

Retreat/ Workshop Cancellation Policy

At the time of booking your in person workshop or retreat I ask you to pay for the event in full. (Unless a payment plan has been pre-arranged)

If you need to cancel your place please only do so for unforeseeable circumstances then this needs to be done in writing to info@yinsexuality.com and the following conditions apply:

- 28 days or more in advance: I will refund your payment minus a 10% admin fee and any payment fees. Or I will minus the 10%, and any payment fees, and you can transfer the rest to another equivalent priced event.

- Less than 28 days advance: I will endeavour to fill your place and return your payment in full, minus 10% admin fee and any Paypal fees. If I can't do this then your full payment will be kept.

By paying for the workshop you indicate your agreement to these cancellation terms. If you have any questions about the policy please discuss them with me before paying the workshop fee.

Online Course Cancellation Policy

I write a very clear description of my online courses, including content and who the course is suitable for. Therefore, once an online course has been paid for - I don't offer any refunds.
